

"I worked with Stephanie for the first time where she did a concert of varied repertoire in Mesa AZ. I found her an incisive and committed performer who was easy to follow and whose mellifluous voice certainly touched her audience. I was pleased at her facility with many styles from Strauss to Spiritual" - Craig Bohmler, composer of Riders of the Purple Sage (from 2018)

"Stephanie has that rare combination of excellent musical talent, great stage presence, organizational skills, and self assurance." - Bill Stein, Director of Music Ministries, First Presbyterian Church, Kirkwood, MO (from 2013)

"She is an exceptional vocal talent and has the vision to create a place for herself in the music scene beyond that of just a "singer-for-hire". - Eapen Leubner, founder of the Denver Art Song Project (from 2018)

"Stephanie is always thoroughly prepared which gives her freedom and a sense of play in the rehearsal room that is a joy to work with as a director. It's a rare thing indeed to find skill and grace in a performer who's also excited to try any crazy idea you throw at them." - Aaron Vega Director, Producer, Curator/Facilities Coordinator for The People's Building (from 2019)

"She... is able to express its meaning to an audience through both the agility of her voice and dramatic movement that can encompass her entire body..." - Matt Daniels, St. Louis Tavern of Fine Arts
